Dear Miss Tarbell:

I trust that Mr. Nevins has got in touch with you by this time and placed his manuscript in your hands.

I imagine that I shall get to New York sometime early in the summer, but I do not know now just when. It has occurred to me that if you have, say, three subjects that graduate students could work up, I could have members of my seminar tackle them in the first semester of next year as a part of their regular work. I have got considerable help for my own volume in this way. Perhaps by the end of the summer you will have some such subjects in mind.

If you need additional help, I think it might be more satisfactory for you to form connections with some competent graduate student at Columbia, because of the advantage of being in the same city with him. I know that Professor Fox would be glad to co-operate in making this possible. Should you wish to do so, I shall be very glad to take up the matter with Fox for you, if you desire. I am sorry that I do not know what is the appropriate rate of pay in such matters.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

A M Schlesinger
