

June 12, 1931

Dear Miss Russell:

Very kind of you to attend so promptly to my wants. The correspondence about the The Beefsteaks is amusing and characteristic, but I shall talk to Mr. Crocker as you suggest before I use the story.

The documents on the Young Plan, particularly Dr. Fraser's pamphlet are just what I want. I am having the articles in the New York Times for June 9, 1929 looked up. I think I can get them, if not I shall call on your files. And a little later I shall want the background material of which you speak.

I am glad you sent me this summary of your education and experience. If you have two or three extra copies I could send them where I think they might do you some good someday - at least I should hope so.

It was pleasant to see you at lunch. We must try it again some day.

Very sincerely

Miss Helen Russell
