

My dear friend

Fisk, Wis., Jan. 24, 1938.

Dear Miss Tarbell:

I thank you very much for the fine photograph of yourself, which you have kindly sent me. When my wife saw it, she said: "She is a nice looking woman."

I am getting old enough to be reminiscent.

I remember when I saw you at a banquet of "The Knife and Fork Club" in Kansas City, Missouri, in January, 1906. William Allen White was one of the other speakers. That was a long time ago.

I was at that time ^{returning home} from a long trip through the West, when I found Yellowstone Park, the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland, Oregon, several weeks sojourn in California, a trip to the Grand Canyon, and several days sojourn in Colorado. I stopped off in Kansas City to visit an old college chum of mine. And while there, he took me one evening to this banquet of the Knife and Fork Club to hear Ida M. Tarbell and William Allen White.

I still have copies of Mc Cleans Magazine containing the misstatements of you early and later life of Abraham Lincoln

I set now and then an occasional letter from Wagon Whipple, with whom I have corresponded for many years.
He tells me that he sees you occasionally.

With very best wishes.

Sincerely,

Robert H. Griffith.
