New York City.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

I have an idea that it would be quite easy for you to get from us here in Pennsylvania the basis for a corking good article on Power as it would interest the women folks, especially those in the rural districts.

I am enclosing herewith an article of the Governor's on the general subject of Power. The more I get into the study as the Director of the Giant Power Survey the more convinced I am that we hardly know where this thing is going to lead.

If this appeals to you in any way, either for an article for the Ladies' Home Journal or as Chautauqua material I will be glad to get in touch with you.

Yours very sincerely,

C-M
