

JOURNALISM

May 14, 1941

Dear Mr. Dorrance:

Sorry not to send you the ten commandments you ask for. I have something of that sort on hand for a book of my own and I am afraid my publisher would object to passing it on before he gets it.

Of course as a writer you are conscious of the work that any such undertaking involves, that is if it is not to be drivel.

Regretting that I cannot be of any assistance, believe me

Very sincerely yours,

Ida M. Tarbell

Mr. Gordon Dorrance
Dorrance & Company Inc.
The Drexel Building
Philadelphia, Pa.