My dear Mr. McCartney:

You remember that last August you sent me a copy of your "voluntary" brief in the United States Steel Corporation case and a letter with comments upon it which you wrote to Judge Gary in the strike of 1919.

Both of these documents reached me too late for use in my work work as I think I wrote you at that time. I was regretful for this. Both of them have meat in them. I should have returned them earlier if it had not been that I have only just found time to go over the papers and notes accumulated in the work of the Gary book.

Thanking you for your courtesy in letting me see these documents, believe me

Sincerely yours
