Evansville, Indiana, August 31, 1927.

Miss Ida Tarbell,
120 E. Nineteenth St.,
New York.

Dear Miss Tarbell:

I expect to be in New York on a visit to my daughter and grandchildren within thirty days, possibly a little longer, and want to know when you are at home. Our work down here is growing, and the field is broadening, and when I get real lonesome, historically speaking (as James Harvey Robinson says "when I get historically minded"), I feel like I want to have a talk with you, and I am sure I can interest you, as I know you always interest me, and I am writing to inquire your whereabouts during the next thirty or sixty days.

I see that Judge Gary has passed over. He was fortunate to have obtained through you in his lifetime such a record of his life. Few men have such an opportunity.

Sincerely yours,

JEI:MM
