Dear Rutger:

I dropped you a note yesterday saying that I had received your letter of June 12 and the copy of your notes of our preliminary talk on the Judge Gary biography.

It is exactly as I remember the points, but as I had neglected to make notes I feared that my understanding might be wrong. I am quite willing to let the matter go without a contract unless D. Appleton & Company prefer to draw one up. If you wish to let it so stand, you may regard this letter as an acceptance of its terms.

I am really getting much interested in the subject, and certainly hope that closer investigation is not going to stir up points that will trouble me.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Rutger B. Jewett,
35 West 32 Street,
New York City.
