Dear Dr. Tolley,

I have just been lunching with Mr. Mills and Mr. Wright again and we grow more and more enthusiastic about the Lincoln Collection. We plan to make it the most important item of business at the Dinner-- as your last letter suggested-- so be prepared to do your part, whatever that may be.

You did not return the material from Miss Tarbell which I had enclosed in my letter and which I said should not be printed in the Campus until after official action is taken by our Alumni Association at the Dinner. I rather suppose you have passed it along to someone else, and that someone else is working with it in an attempt to plan out how the whole matter had best be organized. However, I am going to need the material here by the end of this week. Miss Tarbell is out of town and I must be telling some of our leading Alumni here just what she says, show them the list of books, etc., so they will be able to present our ideas and hers intelligently at the Dinner. So will you send the material back to me-- please-- by the end of the week?

I am glad to hear about the Titusville people who will be interested in helping to fill in the Collection. If there is any point in asking them to the Dinner here, why dont you do it?

Sincerely,

Edna Frost
