

April 23, 1925

Col. Frank A. Scott,
5701 Carnegie Avenue,
Cleveland, O.

My dear Col. Scott:

I have undertaken to do for the Appleton publishing house a Life of Judge Elbert H. Gary. I want to include a chapter on Judge Gary's work in the War. I have talked a little to Judge Gary himself about the matter, and his secretary recently showed me a letter of yours sent to Judge Gary in March, - it makes me anxious to have a detailed talk with you about his services in that period. Would you object to this? And if not, is there any likelihood of your being in New York within the next two or three months? And with leisure enough to make an appointment with me? I should highly appreciate this.

If I cannot see you here, I might go to Cleveland for a day some time around the middle of June as I shall then be in north-western Pennsylvania.

Hoping for a favorable reply, believe me, my dear Colonel
Scott,

Sincerely yours,

Digital Image 2009, The Ida M. Tarbell Collection, 1890-1944, Allegheny University Library