Mr. Joseph Benjamin Oakleaf
Moline, Ill.

My dear Mr. Oakleaf:

I have been out of town for some little time, hammering away at a hard piece of business history which I have on hand, and until I have this finished, which will not be until the end of September, I fear, it will be impossible for me to undertake any other task. However, that may be in time for the review of the Bibliography, for the volume has not reached me yet. When it does come I will look it over and talk with the Christian Science Monitor about the review which you suggest.

It must be a great satisfaction to have your work so near completion. I am very eager to see the result.

With all good wishes

Sincerely yours,
