My dear Mrs. Younger:

Thank you for your recent letter. It would have been answered earlier but I have been extremely busy.

I am interested, of course, in any project which attempts to put religious education on a sounder foundation than it seems to have in parts of the country today. I fear I can be of no use to you in your Conference at the World's Fair, but at least I should be glad to know what you are doing. If the time ever comes when I feel I have a word to say that will be helpful I shall try and say it.

Thanking you again for your kindness in calling my attention to your undertaking, believe me

Very sincerely yours

Mrs. Edward V. Younger
