Dear Mr. Hazeltine:

Way back in May you wrote me a cordial little note about what you call "my championship of Robert Walker" in my recent book "All in the Day's Work."

I was tied up with a series of lectures which were taking all my time and strength at the time and neglected thanking you. That I am doing now. I was gratified that you thought me right in the Walker-McKinley affair. I had taken good care to go into all the background and felt sure of my case.

Thank you for quoting Governor Wise of Virginia. I have never heard that, but it coincides very well with my impressions of him. mk

Thanking you again for your letter and wishing you the best of health, believe me

Sincerely yours

Mr. Edwin D. Haseltine
