

13(2)

1444 ST. JAMES COURT
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Jan. 23, 1933

May Mr. and Mrs. Rice say quite informally that there is no one in the world they would like to come to New York to honor than Miss Tarbell? They are deeply fretted with the conditions of the times for preventing them from coming. Please add our deepest our entire admiration and affection to yours on the occasion of her twentieth year as President of the Pen and Brush and our hope that she may continue to be your presiding genius for many years to come.

Sincerely,

John James Rice
and
Alice Hagan Rice