

Delineator

BUTTERICK BUILDING
NEW YORK

EDITORIAL OFFICES

November 6, 1931.

My

My dear Miss Tarbell:

It was with surprise I read that the day we had luncheon was your birthday. So here is a belated birthday present. You said you wanted to finish it so I thought you might as well finish it in book form.

Last night I saw that friend of mine who spent several months last winter in the Virgin Islands. She says the climate is perfect. Unlike some other Caribbean Islands, the climate in the Virgin Islands is dry. The one thing that isn't so good, she said, is the drinking water. It's rain water and one should at least vary drinking it by drinking bottled water such as White Rock.

No further developments as yet on the Ritchie article.

Sincerely, as always,

Oscar Graeve
Editor

Miss Ida M. Tarbell
120 East 19th Street
New York, N.Y.