

Mrs. Charlotte Reeve Conover
Book Reviews
and Current Events
Dayton, Ohio

Number One South Wilkinson Street

July 20 1920

Dear Miss Tarbell

It was good to see your signature and the welcome compliment which preceded it. In pursuit of your request I have called upon the United Brethern Publishing Company here in Dayton who produced (and horribly inadequately too) my little book.. They were unusually agreeable and tell me that when you decide what you want they will be glad to loan the cuts. The original photographs are, I am afraid, no longer to be had. Would that do?

Also they would like an assurance that they would be returned and if possible an acknowledgement of the favor. I suppose you can say as to both these points. Whenever I hear from you I will give them a day to look the cuts out and will select and send them to you myself. I will be mighty proud to have a hand in something you are doing.

I hope you have been well since I saw you. Things go on as usual with me. Work and home keep me busy. We have been having some interesting visitors at the N.C.R. lately, Europeans. I have a desk out there now and at hand in bringing out a new weekly called "Progress" I'll send you a copy.

Mr Patterson is off for the Adirondacks until fall.

Will all kind wishes, yours always

Charlotte Reeve Conover