

THE EDITOR'S OFFICE
WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION
NEW YORK

May twenty-eighth,
Nineteen Hundred and Eighteen.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

Miss Lane was called out of the office yesterday afternoon and did not get back to the office before she left for Washington. She has asked me to send you the following names as possibilities for the position you mentioned. All of these young women have had some editorial experience, which is one of the requirements you mentioned particularly.

Miss Mary Farmer, 651 Lexington Place, N.E.
Washington, D.C. sent to US.
(Telephone: Lincoln - 1412)

Miss Maude A. White, 1 Edgehill Terrace, Spuyten Duyvil,
New York City.

Miss Marjorie Hillis, 23 Monroe Place,
Brooklyn, New York.

Mrs. Florence M. Madden, 105 East 15th Street, New York City
(Telephone: Stuyvesant - 120)

Miss Nana Clark Barr, 45 West 11th Street,
New York City.
(Telephone: Chelsea - 4160)

I think Miss Lane mentioned to you the name of Miss Edith W. Powell, whose address is 25 North Merion Avenue, Bryn Mawr, Penn'a.

You may have heard that Every Week is to be discontinued shortly. I am wondering if Miss Lewis, on the editorial staff of that publication, might be interested in this position. I do not know of course; it is merely speculation on my part.

I am sure Miss Lane will be glad to help further if you want some more names, or do anything she can.

Very sincerely yours,

W. Isabel Barker
Secretary to Miss Lane.

Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
132 East 19th Street,
New York City.
