

March 6, 1933

My dear Mr. Hamand:

I have just received the clipping you were thoughtful enough to send me with the sad news of the death of your Aunt, Miss Jane Hamand. I am deeply shocked that her long brave and useful life should have ended in what must have been terrible suffering.

For a number of years I enjoyed a correspondence with Miss Hamand on points of interest on the life of Abraham Lincoln whose memory she was so deeply devoted.

Two years ago I met her for the first time in Tucson, Arizona and enjoyed my all too brief visits with her.

Miss Hamand was a woman of unusual mental alertness and great enthusiasm. I am deeply grieved at her tragic death.

You have my full sympathy in your loss.

Very sincerely

Mr. Hamand
