Dear Miss Tarbell,

We sent a copy of your article on Eleanor Roosevelt to Mrs. Wolfe, but there is scarcely anything that this manuscript needs now.

Both Mr. Graeve and I are delighted with the second version of the material and think it is going to make a tremendously successful contribution to Delineator.

Hal Phyfe is keen to make home photographs of the Roosevelts. He will go to Albany whenever we can arrange it and photograph Governor and Mrs. Roosevelt, he playing solitaire, she knitting, in the Governor's house of an evening. I think it will be perfectly splendid if you can persuade the Roosevelts to agree to this plan. I realize of course the complications that have arisen in the illness of Governor Roosevelt's mother and other family affairs such as a trip south. But if you will be so good as to find out when Mr. Phyfe's trip to Albany would be acceptable to the Roosevelts we will appreciate it vastly.

I hope that you are entirely well again and that I have the good fortune to see you soon.

Sincerely yours,

Eleanor Carroll
